

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA COLLEGIATE GOTHIC ARCHITECTURAL STYLE

The architectural style for the University of North Dakota (UND) is Collegiate Gothic. All building renovations, new constructions, and remodels will reflect Collegiate Gothic design elements.

This architectural style features brick exteriors, gothic arches, quoining around windows, buttresses, battlement rooflines, finials and recessed entrances with sconce lighting.

Gothic Arches

Quoining

Buttresses

Battlement Roofline

Finials

Sconce Lighting

Below are photos of buildings on campus that feature the Collegiate Gothic style.

Merrifield Hall

Chester Fritz Library

O'Kelly (formerly the Medical Science Building)

Twamley Hall

Squires Hall

Johnstone Hall