

Where do UND jobs post to?

UND uses auto-enabled centralized advertising, at no additional charge for departments, for faculty and staff job vacancies. Beyond UND's Faculty and Staff job board, all UND jobs automatically post to the below sites. These job sites scrape the UND job board and it may take up to 24 hours for them to appear on the sites listed below.

Additionally, departments are encouraged to advertise in journals, publications and other recruiting media that are relevant to the position. The university is committed to running open public searches aimed at attracting qualified, diverse applicant pools. All active recruitment strategies should be noted and retained as part of the search documentation.

Any questions or request for assistance with additional postings, can be sent to Hannah Whalen, hannah.whalen@und.edu.
